How these children of the sun<sup>4</sup> loved the lake! Their superstitions concerning it were numberless; they wrote its legend on the rocks on its shores and indelibly stamped their long residence near it by the great holes in the rocks, where generation after generation they had ground their corn and acorns. While their honored dead were taken to the mission for burial, many a cross set pliously over a long, low mound marks where they buried their horse thieves, under a clump of chaparral, at the foot of a "hogback." Here they grazed their cattle and sheep; here they lived out their stories of love and hate, while the cattle stood ankle-deep in the cool waters of the lake, drowsing under drooping willows. Here, too, on the lake shore the women brought their exquisitely stitched linen and washed it on the stones, for the water is slightly soft and bleaching and it was a half-day's journey around to the clump of willows under which flowed the hot sulphur springs.

BIS-BIS

There is abundant reason why BIS-BIS crackers are so famously liked by children, as well as grown-ups.

It is well known that a good soda cracker contains the most nourishing part of wheat.

BIS-BIS are a little better than the best of other soda crackers that can be obtained in Los Angeles.

They are highly nutritious and healthful and they are also ever crisp and fresh—uniform in the material, the baking, in crispness, in freshness, in wholesomeness.

BIS-BIS are so well-known in Los Angeles that we feel sure nine out of every ten children you might ask will tell you they like BIS-BIS better than any other soda cracker.

Many of them will say, we think, that they like BIS-BIS better than most anything else they have ever eaten.

BIS-BIS are packed hot from the ovens in securely sealed packages, protecting the delicious crackers from the dust and moisture-laden air.

Crisp BIS-BIS and Bishop's Instantaneous Cup Chocolate make a very delightful and sustaining luncheon.

BIS-BIS at all grocers. In 5-cent packages only.

SEND OUT APPEAL.

A Plea in Behalf of Congo State.

Foreign Mission Boards Ask Aid of President and King Edward.

Cite Heavy Burden of People and Long Delays in Action.

Impressive Petition Urges That Important Issue Be Recognized.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—At a conference of the foreign mission boards of the United States and Canada, here, it has been unanimously agreed to forward to President Roosevelt and King Edward, an appeal on behalf of the Congo Free State. The appeal follows:

"The conference of the foreign mission boards of the United States and the Dominion of Canada most respectfully and earnestly bring to you an appeal in behalf of the stricken people of the Congo Free State. We do this in the name of the forty missionary organizations, whose work is prosecuted in all sections of the world; and we are persuaded that the petition interprets faithfully the sentiment of their constituency of upward of 50,000,000 of Christian men and women. We are not forgetful that recognition has been given by both governments of the international duty in relation to this unhappy people. It is a source of keen satisfaction to us that our governments are united in leadership in a task so closely affecting international honor. But we are reminded by the recurrence of our annual meeting that weeks and months are passing while the heavy burden of wrong continues to rest upon the Congo people, and we recognize with profound regret that the first definite step toward just international action has not yet been taken.

"We speak with deep conviction concerning this issue, because we are intimately associated with many residents of the Congo State, by whom the conditions to which we refer have been disclosed. But you will not need to be reminded that other testimony than ours has been given to the character and credibility of these witnesses. A commission selected by King Leopold, himself, has said of them and of their fellow missionaries in the Congo, that they constitute for the native the sole representative of equality and justice. Of their testimony, dreadful as it has been, the commission has declared that they found it well supported by witnesses and official representatives. "The request which we, like the great company of petitioners of both governments, outside of our constituency, are urging, is obviously fair to all interests, since it asks only for such impartial action as shall give an authoritative relation of all facts, and secure a correction of such wrongs as shall be disclosed. "We submit that the simple issue thus presented involves a primary test of national and international honor and that the longer withholding of the manifestation of international concern for these wards of the nations would leave upon powers responsible for it a lasting reproach. "We would earnestly urge that no device of the ruler of the Congo State, whether of wholesale suspension of motive, or of evasion of accountability through promotion of transfer of territory to a government of which he is himself the head, shall be allowed the issue of international responsibility for the immediate ascertainment of conditions and the correction of wrongs. "The issue, as you are well aware, is not of motive, but of fact; and the duty of guardianship binding the powers to protect the people of the territory of the Congo basin is independent of political relation. "Moreover, we would respectfully urge our conviction that, if the King is a trustee, he cannot transfer his trust except by international sanction. If the conveying of an international responsibility was important in the opening of the Congo territory, it would seem that a conference for review of the issue in all its phases is indispensable for wise and just dealing now. "In the name of humanity, of international justice, of regard for the primal rights of man, we would ask that you use the full power reposed in governments by the Supreme Ruler in the interest of an immediate discharge by the nations of their responsibility of guardianship over the remnant of the humble people, who, a generation ago, without choice of their own, were brought out of their isolation into relationship with the world of men and States."

WILL PROBE INTO GRAFT.

Mayor of Butte Orders Police Commission to Make Rigid Investigation of Charges.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) BUTTE (Mont.), Jan. 13.—As the result of charges made by president of the Council, James Douall, reflecting upon the police department of Butte, Mayor John McGinn has ordered the Police Commission of the Aldermanic body to conduct a searching investigation into the charges of alleged graft. The inquiry, it is expected, will be prolific of decided sensations. Patrolman Fred Pelkey accused a high police official with having asked him and several brother officers, to join him in an attempt to rob the Northern Pacific Express office in this city, claiming that the job would bring them $2000. Witness Pelkey declared, however, that when the proposal was made, the police official was badly intoxicated. Serious charges of graft were made against several of the city detectives.

PLAN IMPOSING CEREMONIES.

ARCHBISHOP MONTGOMERY TO BE BURIED TODAY.

Great Crowd Expected in Cortège. Impressive Services at Interment of Famed Divine—Hundreds Pray at Feet of Departed Prelate, as the Body Lies in Chapel.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—The funeral of Archbishop Montgomery tomorrow will be one of the most imposing ever held in this city. It is believed that over 5000 people will be in the cortège. With impressive pomp and ceremony the body of Archbishop Montgomery was moved from the lower chapel of St. Mary's cathedral to the main nave this afternoon. The casket was borne down the aisle in the midst of the crowds assembled in the cathedral to witness the spectacle. All morning the body had rested in the lower chapel, guarded by two of the officers of the League of the Cross Cadets, while hundreds knelt in prayer at the feet of the departed prelate. The interior of the cathedral was draped in black velvet with dark purple trimmings. The closely packed spectators hardly breathed until the notes of a funeral march rumbled from the organ, and once again the long lines of people filed down the aisles to look, for the last time, upon the body of the departed prelate. A new committee has been appointed to handle insurance legislation. San Francisco Senators are particularly desirous of heading this committee. Assemblyman Hammon of Los Angeles, and Jury of San Mateo, are rivals for the chairmanship of the Assembly Committee on municipal corporations, a body of particular importance at this time, because of the annexation and consolidation projects now under way, not only in Los Angeles county, but among cities around San Francisco Bay. Thompson of Alhambra, probably will head the Assembly Committee on County Government, more than usually interesting to people of Los Angeles county for the reason that many changes have been proposed for that section. Assemblyman Leeds of Los Angeles, may be chairman of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation in the Lower House, while Assemblyman Sackett of Ventura, long a school principal, looms up largest for chief of the Committee on Education. Delegates representing two kinds of doctors, horse and naturopath, arrived today from Los Angeles to lobby for desired legislation. Dr. W. E. D. Morrison headed the former and Dr. W. J. Hane the latter. Lobbyists of various other kinds have been on the ground for several days, and tomorrow will see the arrival of many more, for the gates are to be thrown open for the introduction of bills in both houses. There will be a tremendous rush immediately upon

But Both Beardslee and Porter Hold Down the Lid Till Today.

Important Chairmanships Have Leaked Out—Plans for Capitol Building.

Large Sum Favored to Give the State an Imposing Structure.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Beardslee completed the naming of Assembly committees today, bottled up the names and is sitting on the cork tonight. A few of the more important chairmanships leaked out, but the remainder will not be known until the Assembly reconvenes tomorrow, after a three-day recess. Lieut.-Gov. Porter also is of the lid of his appointment box of committees, although it is no secret that Senator Leavitt will represent the administration as chairman of the Finance Committee. McCartney of Los Angeles, because of his work on the Revenue and Taxation Commission, named by the last Legislature, is likely to be chairman of the Senate Committee to handle this important matter. Senator Lukens of Oakland, will head the Judiciary Committee and Willis of San Bernardino, the Irrigation Committee. More than usual interest attaches to the Committee on Public Morals, to which will go all race-track and prize-fight legislation, and it seems assured that Senator Leavitt of Oakland, who will track, will get the place. ## HE BURGLED IN HIS SLEEP.

Ross Freeman Beats Up a Saloon-keeper and Wife, but Is Acquitted.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Somnambulistic thuggery is excusable in the eyes of the law. When Ross Freeman, broke into Fred Folger's saloon in Armour Avenue, New Year's, and attacked the saloon-keeper in his bedroom and terribly beat Mrs. Folger, he was sound asleep, and therefore unaccountable, according to judgment pronounced by Judge A. L. Cottrell of the Municipal Court. The case in which Freeman was acquitted, after being captured with a mask in his pocket, is unprecedented in court annals.

CLYDE LINE FREIGHTER STRIKES ON ORLEANS BEACH.

Vessel Was Two Miles Out of Her Way in a Cloudy, but Comparatively Clear Night—Chances of Saving the Craft Are About Even. Two Tugs Assisting.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) CHATHAM (Mass.), Jan. 13.—Straying from the beaten track, the Clyde line freighter steamer Onondaga, Capt. Samuel, bound from Boston to Charleston and Jacksonville, struck on Orleans Beach, early today, and is in a dangerous position. The chances of saving the steamer are considered about even. The Onondaga struck the beach nearly head on. The vessel had wandered two miles off the course during a night which, though cloudy, was comparatively clear. Two tugs arrived at the scene this afternoon, but no attempt was made to float the vessel. It is expected that the greater portion of her cargo will have to be lightered before the vessel can be floated. At dark, tonight, the captain shouted ashore that his vessel was still afloat, and showed signs of breaking up. The Onondaga is 2155 tons net burden, and carries a crew of twenty-eight men. The indications are that the former will create sufficient public apprehension to enhance Parliamentary approval of the plan. EX-SOLDIER REJECTED. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) EL PASO (Tex.), Jan. 13.—Running at a high rate of speed, Rock Island passenger train No. 39, which left here at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening for Chicago, dashed into an open switch at Barney, N. M., 190 miles north of El Paso, early this morning. Five persons were killed and eight injured. The dead are: H. F. ACKLEY, Alamogordo, N.M. engineer. E. J. REDFIELD, Alamogordo, N.M. fireman. HARLEY SPENCER, Corona, N.M. sheepman. ANDREW HERRON, Bixbee, Ariz. Mexican child, 3 years old. The injured are two Arabs, who went from El Paso and nine members of a Mexican family. When the train dashed into the switch, the engine left the track and turned over, pinning the engineer and fireman underneath, killing them instantly. The express car, dining car and a Pullman were thrown from the track. Eight passengers were hurt, but none seriously. The train wrecked today was in a passenger train, carrying about 100 passengers and 25 persons, mostly Mexican laborers on their way to El Paso, were killed, and over 20 persons were injured.

STRAYED FROM PROPER COURSE.

CLYDE LINE FREIGHTER STRIKES ON ORLEANS BEACH.

Vessel Was Two Miles Out of Her Way in a Cloudy, but Comparatively Clear Night—Chances of Saving the Craft Are About Even. Two Tugs Assisting.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) CHATHAM (Mass.), Jan. 13.—Straying from the beaten track, the Clyde line freighter steamer Onondaga, Capt. Samuel, bound from Boston to Charleston and Jacksonville, struck on Orleans Beach, early today, and is in a dangerous position. The chances of saving the steamer are considered about even. The Onondaga struck the beach nearly head on. The vessel had wandered two miles off the course during a night which, though cloudy, was comparatively clear. Two tugs arrived at the scene this afternoon, but no attempt was made to float the vessel. It is expected that the greater portion of her cargo will have to be lightered before the vessel can be floated. At dark, tonight, the captain shouted ashore that his vessel was still afloat, and showed signs of breaking up. The Onondaga is 2155 tons net burden, and carries a crew of twenty-eight men. The indications are that the former will create sufficient public apprehension to enhance Parliamentary approval of the plan. EX-SOLDIER REJECTED. EL PASO (Tex.), Jan. 13.—James Duncan, one of the members of the Company D, Twenty-fifth Infantry, discharged without honor at El Reno, applied to the local recruiting office here today for reenlistment, but was rejected under orders of the President. Legislature Considers Nothing but Senator's Case, and Determination to Probe into It.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All Texas is watching the fight on Senator Bailey. The Legislature has closed its first week without having considered or talked of anything but the Bailey case. Senator Bailey personally is directing the campaign with headquarters in Austin. He has a following of hard fighters who are contesting every inch with the opposing faction.
The legislature has been reassembled, and fully one-half of the Joint Assembly has refrained from expressing an opinion as to the probable result. It was definitely determined today, however, that the allegations of complicity with the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, and other charges, will be fully investigated by a joint committee.
RICH INSANE WOMAN DYING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Margaret Winthrop Folson, probably the wealthiest insane woman in the world, is reported dying in a sanatorium at Waverly, Mass., where she has spent thirty-eight years. Her estate is close to $4,000,000.
In the sanatorium she occupies a suite of four rooms with a dining-room. Two nurses are in constant attendance. Everything here is given to her to add to her comfort or to gratify her slightest wish, but her wants are few.
RABBI DISCUSSES RELIGION.
Declares It Criminal to Teach Children a Creed Contrary to That of Their Parents.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Separation of Church and State" is the theme of Rev. Joseph Silverman at the Temple Emanuel today.
"To endeavor to instill into the minds of children of the public schools a religion contrary to that of their parents is a well known criminal. It is folly to say that Bible reading and prayer in the public schools is not a violation of the Constitution. The Old Testament is the text-book of Judaism, the New Testament the text-book of Christianity. You cannot read one to the exclusion of the other without becoming partisan."
ITALY WOULD EXCLUDE.
ROME, Jan. 13.—Unofficial advances made in an endeavor to ascertain Italy's attitude concerning a representative conference at the coming peace conference at The Hague have found no encouragement. Although the relations between Italy and the church are now of the best, the Italian government does not think it wise to abandon the principle established in 1858, when the Papacy was excluded from the first conference.
Besides this, there is now another country that would strongly object to a Papal representative, namely France.
POLL LABOR FOR PEACE.
LOGANSPORT (Ind.) Jan. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the American Federation of Labor throughout Indiana are being polled, at the request of President Samuel Gompers, to bring pressure to bear on Congress in favor of international arbitration. Washington Causes Two Conspirators Arrest.
Shooter Jailed at Fresno. Liddy's Skull Broken.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—What is charged by the police to be a scheme to defraud a Washington physician out of $5000 led to the arrest, today, of Frank P. Homans of Paris, France, and David T. Tanner, alias Townsend, of White Plains, N. Y., on the charge of conspiracy.
The men were arrested after Dr. Thomas J. Kemp of this city had told the police that Tanner had made a proposition to enter a deal to put a new York gambling house out of business.
Dr. Kemp declares the men assured him that by investing $5000 he could easily win from $200,000 to $300,000 within one week.
The "get-rich-quick" scheme, according to Dr. Kemp's report to the police, was that Dr. Kemp was to pay $5000, and Tanner, who claimed to be the manager of the gambling house, was to tip Homans and the physician off on the run of the cards in a faro game.

Czar Praises Energetic Action of the Chief Minister of State—Thanks the Cabinet Members for Their Services—Appointments to Council of the Empire.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 13.—Premier Stolypin and Minister of Justice Oicholovskoff have been appointed Ministers of the Council of the Empire. They retain their present posts, however.
An imperial rescript addressed to M. Stolypin expresses the hope that the ministry will be at its post after the convocation of the new Parliament. It refers to the Premier's difficult task of restoring public order, and praises his energetic action which effected a distinct improvement, "despite foehdard efforts and continual crimes by revolutionaries."
The Emperor then refers to bills which His Majesty considered so absolutely necessary that they have been put into force before the meeting of the Parliament.
Emperor Nicholas thanks Premier Stolypin and the members of his ministry for their services, and says that only by the cooperation of the new legislative bodies of the government can he see a guarantee for law and order and the strengthening of the force of the State in accordance with the necessities of the new life to which Russia is called.

Knew How to Get Well.
A young lady well known to the theater-goers of the land, gives an interesting experience. Writing from Chicago she says:
"In December 1902, I was laid up with a sick spell, at the expiration of a week, nervous and extremely delicate, some rehearsals such a faintness seized me that I was compelled to stop.
"My strength returned very slowly and I spent my time in lying down, worrying, till my mother persuaded me to try Grape-Nuts food for my breakfast. I confess I had but little hope that it would do me any good, but made up my mind to give it a good fair trial.
"I am more than glad that I did. It quickly brought back my lost strength, made my nerves strong and healthy again, and gave me increased health and weight. I always carry it with me now, as I find that some hotels do not keep it. Grape-Nuts food has emphatically demonstrated itself a blessing for health, strength, brain and nerves, in my case."

This image is a dark, high-contrast scan of a document page. It features prominent vertical lines and bands of varying shades of gray and black, suggesting a heavily shadowed or damaged page. The overall appearance is abstract and lacks legible text or identifiable figures.

This image shows a dark, high-contrast, black and white photograph of a textured surface, likely the cover or endpaper of an old book. The texture is characterized by numerous vertical lines and ridges, suggesting a woven or layered material. On the right side of the image, a ruler is visible, providing a scale for the texture. The lighting is dramatic, with deep shadows and bright highlights that emphasize the physical details of the surface.

A black and white photograph showing the fore-edge of a thick, old book. The pages are numerous, thin, and have a yellowish-brown patina, indicating age. The binding is visible on the right side, showing the spine and the edges of the covers. The book is resting on a dark surface, and the lighting highlights the texture of the paper and the structure of the binding.

THE CITY IN BRIEF
NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Patrolman Ill.

Patrolman J. F. Williams is at his home very sick with pneumonia. He has been ill for some time and two nights ago left duty a very sick man. Day of Prayer.

The City Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will hold a day of prayer tomorrow at the First Methodist Episcopal Church. The services will commence promptly at 10 a.m.

Belligerent Mexican.

Juan Monica, a Mexican, was arrested in a restaurant on San Fernando street last night on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. According to the officer Monica was threatening to use the weapon on two Greeks.

Stole a Purse.

Earl Pierce and Fred Wilson were arrested on East First street by a patrolman yesterday. The men were charged with having stolen a pocket book. The men are said to have been seen stealing the wallet in the Volunteers of America building-house from the bed of one of the inmates of the place. A formal complaint will be lodged against them today.

Six Months at Sea.

Sailing sometime last June from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, the Russian sailing ship Fenna arrived yesterday at the Long Wharf, Port Los Angeles. She is under command of Capt. Soderman. Her actual time from the English port was 192 days, and three weeks at one stretch of that time she was becalmed. The Fenna carries a cargo of general merchandise.

Heavy Steamer Traffic.

On account of the storm damage to the railroad lines running north to San Francisco, the steamer traffic is very heavy. Reports indicate that it will be several days at least before permanent communication is opened, and persons having business in the North naturally prefer the steamers. The State of California, which sailed yesterday from Port Los Angeles, carried 353 passengers.

Died Drunk in Jail.

O. Miner, an old soldier, who has been in the City Jail a number of times for drunkenness, died in the institution yesterday morning from acute alcoholism. The man had been released scarcely twenty-four hours before his death on the expiration of a sentence. He proceeded to drink heavily almost as soon as he had crossed the Central Station doors, and by night was in a state of intoxication. He was found by a patrolman and died soon after being taken to the jail again.

Rout at Rosedale.

Funeral services for the late Abraham G. Christie were conducted yesterday by Rev. A. W. Atkinson, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district, at the home of Mrs. Mary G. Hogerman, No. 1658 West Thirty-seventh street. Interment, which was held at Rosedale, Mrs. Christie, who was 76 years old, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hogerman. He had been a resident of Los Angeles for over twenty years. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary A. King; two daughters, Mrs. Hogerman and Mrs. Wheaton; and two sons, James Christie and Henry Christie. All are residents of Los Angeles and were present at the service.

TAKE CASH AND JEWELRY.

Burglars entered the home of C. W. Fielding, No. 397 West Forty-first street, last night and secured $8 in cash, some jewelry and a silver spoon. The thieves gained entrance by opening the front door with a pass key. A quantity of solid silver was overlooked.

LAW SNIFFS LIQUOR.

So Decent is Made on Two Places at San Fernando—Advance of Steam Shovel.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 12.—Chris Kessler was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling liquor, without a license. He gave bonds for $100 for his appearance for examination in Los Angeles this week. Kessler keeps a lunch counter in a little "hole in the wall" place and is said to have been dispensing booze freely for a month. Two deputies from the District Attorney's office served the warrant.

Robert Kessler was also arrested today on a charge of selling liquor without a license. This is alleged to be his fourth offense and he was not admitted to bail. He will be taken to Pasadena for examination and to face some old charges standing against him. The last time Kessler was on trial the magistrate presiding against him two years in the "pen" for his next offense. Bob's fight was pitiful, when the officer served the warrant. He turned white as a ghost, nervously clasped and unclasped his hands, while the golden hair of his wife seemed to stand up. He asked, reproachfully, if he had to go to "chill." He had.

The Southern Pacific Company's steam shovel crew which has been used for ballast on the double track being laid from Burbank to Los Angeles, has finished work there and, after repairing the track damaged by the flood, will come to San Fernando and begin work on the company's storm drain. It is planned to make the ditch five feet deeper and at least fifteen feet wider. This will make it ten feet deep by twenty wide. The embankments will be walled with rock to prevent the water undermining the track as it did during the last storm. Mrs. George K. Porter who was seriously hurt about a week ago, in the wreck of an excursion train, bound for the City of Mexico, is expected home within two weeks. The coach in which Mrs. Porter was traveling was turned upside down, and she was picked up unconscious. Her injuries were of the spine, and it is thought she will never fully recover.

ALHAMBRA'S FUEL LIMIT.

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 12.—Alhambra has reached the limit in its fuel supply. For fully a week there has been a general skirmish for fuel. Everything combustible that could be used without too great a sacrifice has been called into requisition. There is no longer any use in trying to locate a wood pile or a coal bin. Dealers promise a small supply of coal this week.

The recent rainfalls have awakened such a profound interest in storm drains that, looking for almost any amount within reason would probably carry with an overwhelming majority. The week of prayer has been observed by all four of the churches here. The attendance during the last three evenings has been good. Francisco Leivos of San Gabriel was brought before Judge Roubie of the place yesterday to face the charge of disturbing the peace. Leivos had been firing a shotgun at a group of his fellow citizens just to see if the crowd would scatter more than the shot. After hearing some testimony and the plea of guilty on the part of the accused, the magistrate fined him $50.

FROM SEMI-TROPICS TO SIX FOOT SNOW.

Heavy Mantle of the Beautiful Wrecks Buildings and Endangers Lives in Mountains Within Sight of Los Angeles.

STRANGE things have happened in the past few days on the Mount Wilson trail, which winds about up and down the semi-tropics into six feet of snow, to where stalwart young pine trees weighted with tons of ice crystals, bow their proud heads to the ground. Strange sights may be seen by those who have the hardihood to make the climb.

It has been snowing on the upper reaches of the trail, huge masses of rock have been torn loose by the weight of drifts, sweeping across the narrow path, crashing down through the pine forest a thousand feet, to the bottom of the deepest cañon in the range. Large buildings have been crushed, sinking beneath tons of snow. Mules, bearing packs toward the snow-bound hotel at the summit, have become stricken with panic on the strangely distorted and shattered trail, as it plunged from the edge, down the steep slope, whirling over and over through the drifts. Narrow escapes from death occurred in the midst of the great storm.

Last Tuesday night the storm was at its height. At 8 o'clock H. O. Vogel, a Mr. Vogel and Ralph P. J. Francis, of the city, after struggling up the trail for hours through the whirling, blinding snow, sought refuge in the big frame building, used for a dining hall in summer, at Martin's Camp. In spite of the shelter, the air was bitter cold, and the trio soon decided that it was better to brave the dangers of the trail and the storm than remain and freeze where they were. Scarcely had they left their refuge when the roof gave way. They heard the crash above the roar of the storm, and turned back. In a white fury of whirling snow, they saw the utter wreck of the building they had left a little while before.

HEARTSICK, THEY PLUNGE ON. Heart sick, filled with foreboding, they went on plunging upward along the covered trail. All the things that human beings had shaped and reared upon the mountain seemed abandoned to destruction in the storm. A mile beyond, measured by the twists and turns of the trail, they knew the Mount Wilson Hotel should be, with lights and warmth and food, where man-eatable, even before coming in sight of what was then the worst place in the trail. The men began unpacking them, and had taken two of the packs off when one of the mules whirled about suddenly on the broken and narrow path, missed his footing in the soft snow at the edge and plunged down an almost vertical snow chute a thousand feet long, turning over and over as he fell.

Mad with terror at the sight, another of the mules tried to turn back, meeting the same fate as the first, except that a deep drift stopped his fall a hundred feet below the trail. By the aid of ropes he was raised. For one that plunged to the bottom of the cañon there was no way out, and he remains there still. Joe O'Keefe made his way down to him, and found that the animal's only injury was a strained and chafed fetlock.

The other mules were unpacked and sent down the trail. Above the slide there were no pack animals at all, and all supplies were carried up from that point by men.

Wednesday night, at 9 o'clock, the greater slide occurred, when tons of jagged rock, from just above the trail, went down the mountain. This happened less than a hundred feet from the slide of Tuesday night. Mrs. Rich, at the hotel, heard the rumble of its passage, and thought of the mule in the bottom of the cañon where the mass of rocks and snow, bearing down logs and trees in its flight, had gone.

"That's the last of poor Dick," she told her husband.

The point where the slides occurred is one and a half miles from the hotel by trail, but less than half a mile in an air line, and in plain view. Mrs. Rich had seen the cloud of earth and snow flung into the air along the course of the slide.

MULE SAFE, BUT HUNGRY. The mule, however, was not touched by stone or tree. Joe O'Keefe found him quite well next morning, but very hungry. The beast was fed, and will receive one meal a day until the melting of the deep drifts makes it possible to bring him out of the cañon. A suggestion was made that he be named "Hicks," but this was not accepted.

Thursday it was discovered that the main building in Strain's camp, a mile beyond the hotel on the summit, had been wrecked by the snow.

trees and bushes, marks of another sort showed where some of the school-boys on their way to the summit had amused themselves tobogganing to the trail—with other toboggan than the seats of their trousers.

The telephone wires, strung above the trail, were buried in drifts for a hundred yards at a stretch, and where still above the snow, they looked as if young cats had been playing with them. The place the big slide was forbidding. Rocks that appeared to be loose still overhung the shattered trail, and one jagged eight-ton slab had been forced out of the mass three feet above the path that must be taken by those who wished to go on. Below the trail a broad belt of dirty brown through the snow, ground up pine field of snowy bloom. Six inches of snow fell, adding to the height, though little to the weight, of the monstrous white caps which topped the little cabins and made them look ridiculous. In spite of the snow, the big family which Mr. and Mrs. Rich were caring for, scattered out over the trails early on Sunday. Every loose plank about the place, even to boards laid down for walks over ditches, were seized for the purpose of improvising toboggans. One group of schoolboys were using a shovel as a sled, making long and somewhat dangerous slides upon it.

BURIED IN SNOW. Strain's camp, where the Elks held their great reunion two years ago, was almost buried in snow. Only the top men and women would welcome them from the terrors of the night. But was it there? There was nothing left for them to do but go and see. They groped their way along the trail, turn after turn of the upward way, till at last a gleam of light shone through the fog of snowflakes. In another moment men and women were welcoming them to light and warmth and food.

All had been abandoned that the hotel, where more than fifty persons were held by the storm, might be saved. Even there, in spite of many efforts to clear away the weight of the snow, the roof sunk an inch or two and cracked where the chimney passes through.

Later Tuesday night the first considerable slide of earth and rocks occurred on the trail, half a mile below Martin's Camp. Some of the falling mass filled the narrow space out into the slope. The rest went tearing down the mountain, snapping off pine trees in its course. But it did not make the trail entirely impassable.

Thursday morning, when the storm had abated, four mules packed with supplies for the Mount Wilson Hotel, were started up the trail in charge of P. H. Huston, for provisions were given, and there was no coal for the cooking range.

Partly because rumors of what the storm had done on the Mount Wilson trail, found their way down into the valley, an even greater number of climbers than usual at a week's end set out for the summit Saturday.

The snow turned back, even before the snow line, just above the half way house was reached, but more than a few kept on. Some hardy travelers, starting early in the morning from Sierra Madre, ate luncheon at the hotel and then retraced down the trail. All but one party, among those who went up on burros or horses, turned their animals loose a hundred feet below the slides, where the trail began to be badly broken, leaving them to go back to Carter's Camp at the foot of the trail. The single exception was a party of three, two men and a woman. They took two close-clipped polo ponies with them. One of the ponies went back down the trail; the other they tied to a fence across the mouth of the old trail to Pasadena. Apparently this was done out of contempt for the woman, who might wish to ride down the trail. Persons who passed down talked of the thing to those who were on their way up, saying it was a shame. One man listened with a sort of wonder to the seemingly helpless indignation of those who told the story. When he came to the sensitive, shivering animal tied short to the fence, he simply turned him loose.

RIDERS SIT TIGHT. All along the trail, in its false edge of soft snow, deep hoof marks told of uncomfortable moments the riders must have suffered, of quick-caught breath and frightened glances down rocky slopes that were almost precipices. Above the trail here and there where the snow-clad slope was free of boulders and scattered stones, marked the path of the avalanche. It was not a comforting sight to those who crawled under the hanging rock, for the San Gabriel Mission.

"I don't like the looks of that," said one bright-faced schoolboy who was coming down. Nevertheless, he stopped in the path of possible danger to call out the cheery boast: "I came from the top since morning."

STRANGE SHAPES IN MIST. In the afternoon, on the higher reaches of the trail, a heavy mist gave a weird appearance to the scene. Hills covered with pines too big for the snow to bend down and cover looked like smoke. The white slopes took strange shapes behind the mist.

Fifteen or twenty boys from Troop Polytechnic and the Pasadena High School kept on to the summit. By 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon most of them had reached the goal. That goal would have been a pleasant one at any time. Though every plank, and every part of it except the stone in its great chimney, was packed up the trail by burros, there is nothing of a makeshift character in its appearance. It is homelike and tastefully arranged. Two semi-circles before the wide fireplace Saturday afternoon made it most unconventionally homelike. The first, in the strongest glow of a big log fire, was composed of steaming shoes; the second was formed of the owners, damp but happy. Sixty-one of whom only five were women, stayed at the hotel, or in the cabins, that night.

Snow fell again Saturday night, and Sunday morning it still was snowing, gently, in little feathery flakes that floated down to the drifts like infinitesimal white butterflies alighting on a

HOLD UP FIVE IN ONE NIGHT.

Pair of Highwaymen Reap a Rich Harvest.

Rob Two Cousins, Beating One With Gun Butt.

Daring Criminals Disdain to Wear Masks.

Two new highwaymen made their debut in Los Angeles Sunday morning by holding up and robbing five men. Every claw points to the fact that the foot-pads are old-time criminals. With large Colt's revolvers, and without masks, the robbers daringly attacked citizens singly and in pairs. Much money, two gold watches, a diamond ring and many other pieces of jewelry were secured.

Two highwaymen held up and robbed Walter F. Arbuckle and Dennis Arbuckle at Lawrence and Industrial streets about 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Walter Arbuckle was knocked down and badly beaten. From him the footpads secured 55 cents and from Dennis Arbuckle they took a gold watch, a diamond ring and $13.10. The robbers escaped.

Walter Arbuckle lives at No. 2010 Bay street and Dennis Arbuckle at No. 206 Bay street. They are cousins and are proprietors of a horse clipping establishment at No. 1933 East Seventh street.

The Arbuckles went to the theater Saturday evening. After the performance they had luncheon at a restaurant and then started to walk home. As they passed along Lawrence street, they noticed that two men, who were walking much slower than themselves, were a few yards in front of them. As they neared Industrial street they passed the two men. Presently one of the latter called to the Arbuckles to stop.

When Walter Arbuckle turned about the taller of the highwaymen ordered him to throw up his hands. He obeyed and so did his cousin. The footpads then searched their pockets and took their valuables.

VICTIM KNOCKED DOWN. Suddenly the tall highwayman said to Walter Arbuckle: "You think you are foxes, don't you?" Before Arbuckle could reply, the robber struck him with the butt of the gun on the chin. The smaller of the robbers pleaded with his companion to stop abusing the victim. Whereupon the tall man dealt Arbuckle a stunning blow on the right ear felling him.

After warning the Arbuckles that they would be killed if they made an outcry or attempted to follow, the highwayman disappeared down Industrial street. Dennis Arbuckle assisted his cousin to his feet and helped him to his home. He then notified the police of the occurrence.

Detectives went to the residence of C. E. Iowa, with whom Walter Arbuckle lives, and got a rather inaccurate description of the footpads. Arbuckle was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

The taller of the robbers is described as about 5 feet 10 inches in height with dark hair and complexion. He wore a derby and a sack suit. The smaller man was about 5 feet 3 inches tall, and wore a slouch hat. Both appeared to be Americans and about 25 years old.

COVERED WITH GUN. Prior to the robbery of the Arbuckles the highwaymen held up C. A. Devoe of No. 629 Mimosa street. They took his watch, $25.50 in cash and some valuable papers. He was attacked at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. After leaving a party of friends in

1. The first of these is the fact that the majority of the population of the United States is now living in urban areas. This is a result of the process of urbanization, which has been going on since the beginning of the 20th century. The population of the United States has increased from about 100 million in 1900 to over 200 million in 1960. At the same time, the population of rural areas has decreased from about 100 million in 1900 to about 50 million in 1960. This has led to a concentration of the population in urban areas, which has had a number of important consequences. One of the most important is that it has led to a change in the way of life of the majority of the population. In rural areas, the population has traditionally been engaged in agriculture, and the way of life has been based on the needs of the farm. In urban areas, the population has traditionally been engaged in industry and commerce, and the way of life has been based on the needs of the city. This has led to a number of differences between the two ways of life, including differences in the types of housing, the types of jobs, and the types of social organizations. These differences have led to a number of problems, including the problem of housing, the problem of unemployment, and the problem of social inequality. These problems have led to a number of social movements, including the labor movement, the civil rights movement, and the women's movement. These movements have led to a number of important changes in the way of life of the majority of the population, and these changes have led to a number of important developments in the history of the United States.
